13 FEBRUARY 2013 - Storm chasing has become a TV spectator sport, and Florida storm chaser and writer Chris Kridler explores that idea with thrilling action, humor and drama in her new novel, “Tornado Pinball.” The book comes out in late February and will be celebrated March 22 with the opening of an exhibit of Kridler’s storm photography and a book signing at the Downtown Gallery in Titusville, Florida.

Here’s a summary of the novel: Just when TV shows about storm chasing can’t get any more extreme, along comes a production company with the ultimate exploit: the Bubble, a manned tornado probe. As the reluctant consultant, expert storm chaser Jack Andreas must get the show’s nervous star, failed tour operator Brad Treat, into a twister. But Jack is losing his customary cool as a comedy of errors unfolds. Distracting him is co-star Saffire, a Hollywood actress who is more than she seems, and producer Wynda, who will do anything to make her documentary succeed. The daring star of another show pursues them, desperate for a shot with his own flying machine. As the disasters mount, will Jack be able to launch their device into a tornado? In this second Storm Seekers novel — the sequel to “Funnel Vision” — “Tornado Pinball” delivers an unforgettable adventure with action, humor, romance and stunning storms.
